SPEAKING TO A GENERATION

FiveLoaves Twofish is a fashion driven lifestyle brand for girls, tweens, and young contemporaries. The collection is an all encompassing look, attitude, and way of life. Each season the design team creates a collection based on a theme derived from popular books, politics, and pop culture.

We are a “transition” brand for girls caught between “little” girlhood and “juniors.” It is an age of exploration. They are on the “hunt” to find out who they are. Each day they experiment. One day they want to wear their puffy party dress and be a “little” girl. The next they want their sequin dress; today they are a “big” girl. Fashion is their canvas. We provide them a rich collection full of varying attitudes to allow them to play with who they will be each and every day. They have their whole lives to find their “look.” For now, we say EMBRACE Experimentation; PLAY WITH FASHION.
